HAMA RIKYU GARDENS

MEIJI SHRINE, TOKYO

MEIJI SHRINE &
JAPANESE GARDEN
TOKYO (YOKOHAMA), JAPAN

Although located in the very heart of Tokyo, Meiji Shrine is surrounded by a dense forest glade. Tokyo’s most renowned Shinto shrine, it is dedicated to Emperor Meiji the Great, who transformed Japan from a feudal state into a world power. The soaring torii gate entry makes quite the statement, as it was constructed with 1,500-year-old cypress. Once inside the elegant shrine, you will likely feel a great sense of serenity. That same sense of tranquillity pervades Hama Rikyu Garden, an Edo-Period garden surrounded by soaring skyscrapers. Chances are, an abundance of flowers will be in bloom, as that is how Hama Rikyu Gardens was designed.

CU CHI TUNNELS & FRUIT GARDENS

HO CHI MINH, VIETNAM

Explore the incredible warren of tunnels that Communist forces hand-excavated while fighting for Vietnam’s independence. These were also used in the Vietnam War after being greatly expanded to include living quarters, smokeless kitchens, hospitals and schools – all deep underground. You can watch a video describing the tunnels, see the tools used to dig them and even pass through some of the narrow tunnels to experience what it was like living beneath the earth’s surface. Farms are now flourishing in this forested area, and while visiting one, you will see the variety of tropical fruits, herbs and vegetables that grow there, many of which you can sample.

KUALA LUMPUR COUNTRYSIDE & HANDICRAFTS

KUALA LUMPUR (PORT KLANG), MALAYSIA

Although the Batu Caves are magnificent on their own, the caves at the top of the limestone outcrop are particularly spectacular as they contain several Hindu temples. Like the many pilgrims that visit, you must climb 272 steps to reach the temples, but it will be well worth the effort. The allure of Royal Selangor is its exquisite pewter products, which range from intricate wall plaques to sleek tableware. Besides touring the factory, you will craft your own pewter souvenir. You will also pause for photos of an even more ambitious manmade marvel – the Petronas Twin Towers, once the world’s tallest buildings.

PENGUIN ROOKERY
NAVIGATION

USHUAIA, ARGENTINA

Sail the strait separating Argentina from Chile, named for the HMS Beagle of Charles Darwin fame. Seabirds far outnumber humans here; look for black-capped albatrosses and flocks of aggressive skuas, known to thief fish from the mouths of other birds in mid-air. On Bird Island, the main inhabitants are Imperial cormorants and rock shags. The residents of Sea Lion Island are heftier; dozens of its namesake mammals cluster on the rocks. Perched on its own mid-channel rock, Les Eclaireurs Lighthouse is another photo-worthy sight. But the most captivating of all is Martillo Island’s colony of Magellanic penguins – watch as they prowl the channel waters for fish.

JUMPING CROCODILE CRUISE

DARWIN, AUSTRALIA

Travel by coach through Australia’s tropical Top End to the Adelaide River, then embark on a cruise that brings you nearly face-to-jaws with jumping crocodiles. The Adelaide is one of eight Northern Territory rivers whose expansive floodplains create a great expanse of coastal wetland – a perfect habitat for all sorts of unique animals and plant life, including crocodiles. Be sure to have your camera poised in hopes of capturing that breathtaking moment when the croc breaks the water and vaults out in a shower of spray, scales and muscle. It’s a primal, surprising thrill you won’t soon forget.

BALI TERRACES & ULUN DANU TEMPLE

BALI (BENOA), INDONESIA

Visit Baha Village to see verdant rice terraces that have become synonymous with this part of Bali and learn how the farmers maintain them. Irrigation is the key, and community organisations strictly regulate the distribution of water to ensure that the rice fields flourish. Lake Beratan is the source of much of the area’s water, as you will discover at Ulun Danu, a temple complex on the lake’s western shore. It was built in the 17th century to honour the lake goddess Danu and attests to the importance of water in the Balinese countryside. The crystal-clear lake and mountainous backdrop make a striking setting.

CRYSTAL CAVES & TUCKERS TOWN DRIVE HAMILTON, BERMUDA

Marvel at natural wonders, including the Crystal Caves’ underground lake, and then drive through Bermuda’s most affluent residential neighbourhood. As you descend into the natural grotto, you will be treated to close-up views of the oddly shaped stalactites and stalagmites illuminated with coloured lights for added drama. In time, you will pause at an underground lake with water so gin-clear that you will be able to see the cave floor 15 metres (50 feet) below the surface. Continuing on, you will drive through Tuckers Town, a neighbourhood so exclusive and expensive that part of it is known as ‘billionaire’s row’.
